

The Marlborough Sounds, at the top of the South Island, just beyond the famous Marlborough wine region, offers bush clad bays and beaches, a mild climate and a superb combination of hiking and biking trails, sea kayaking and cruising. The Queen Charlotte Track is one of New Zealand's Great Walks, an intermediate level track, undulating rather than steep and easily accessible by anyone of moderate fitness. Accommodation along the way is in a variety of simple to luxurious bed and breakfasts and small lodges. Water taxis carry your luggage from point to point, so all you have to do is enjoy the walking and the scenery.

Wilderness Guides live work and play in the Marlborough Sounds. Their passion for the region is obvious and their commitment to the environment genuine. Join Steve, Juliet and their small, friendly team for guided or independent sea kayaking tours, mountain biking and gourmet guided or independent hikes on the Queen Charlotte Track - or a combination of all three with their Marlborough Sounds adventure combo tours.

This is where your adventure begins!

Queen Charlotte Track Guided Packages

Wilderness Guides offer the most extensive range of guided walking and independent hiking packages to experience the Queen Charlotte Track. Their boutique lodge guided walk was even rated as one of the 25 Best New Trips in the World 2008 by National Geographic Adventure Magazine!

As Queen Charlotte Track specialists, the tours featured on this website offer excellent value, exceptional service and a commitment to the track environment. Both independent and guided walk options from one day to multi days are available depending on the style of experience you prefer.

As a general rule, if you would like a more personalised tour with an emphasis on gourmet food and wine with everything provided including interpretation on the area, then a guided walk is for you. See the guided walking packages at the bottom of the page.

If you are more independent of spirit but would still like certain elements such as your accommodation, transport and daily lunch arranged, then the independent packages offer this. Or, perhaps you want a custom package designed – Wilderness Guides can do that for you too!
