Te Anau, Fiordland

Milford & Doubtful Sound Flights

Helicopter flights from Te Anau into spectacular World Heritage Fiordland National Park. Fiordland Helicopters operate scenic flights around Milford Sound and also to less visited Doubtful and Dusky Sounds and even as far south as iconic but utterly remote Preservation Inlet, the southern-most fiord in New Zealand. This immense wilderness region is inaccessible except on foot, by boat or by air.

The company is a New Zealand Civil Aviation approved air transport operator and a member of the Aviation Industry Association of New Zealand. Pilot expertise, local knowledge, and their ability to land and work inside the National Park allow them to provide a Fiordland flying service second to none. Private charter flights are also available for fishing expeditions, hiking and cruise connections. A helicopter flight will give you an awe inspiring view of New Zealand's wild regions that is almost impossible any other way.

Dusky & Doubtful Gold Star

Fly further south to experience the many scattered islands and early history unique to New Zealand's largest fiord, Dusky Sound. Fly and extraordinary section of the open coastline where waves sculpt granite rocks and the mountains meet the sea.

Duration: 1 hour 40 Minutes

Milford Sound Gold Star

Fly north over Lake Te Anau to discover the northern parts of Fiordland National Park including the iconic Milford Sound, with its Sutherland Falls, Mitre Peak, and towering ice capped mountains. Your return journey will take you along the Murchison Mountains, a special conservation area paramount in the management of the endangered flightless Takahe. Continue your scenic flight above and beyond Milford Sound into the heart of Fiordland's biggest mountains. Glacier landing included.

South: Preservation, Dusky and Doubtful Sound

This flight takes you to the bottom of New Zealand's rugged West Coast and through a remote wild landscape which unveils a unique slice of early Maori and European history. Sit back and enjoy the ride as your pilot skillfully guides you through the fiords to Doubtful Sound and the steep sided valley that magically unfolds into Campbell's Kingdom. This flight path takes you to the mouth of Dusky Sound and follows the channels to it's head... giving you the very best views of it's many islands, coves, passages and inlets.

Includes two wilderness landings.

Duration: 2 hours 30 minutes

Price: $975 to $1,880
